PUERTO RICO UNDER SPANISH DOMINION

1893 COLUMBUS COMMEMORATIVE ISSUE

In 1893, a stamp commemorating the 400th anniversary of Columbus's arrival in Puerto Rico was issued. This was the 3rd commemorative stamp issued in the world, and the only stamp produced in Puerto Rico. It was printed in San Juan and financed through public funds. Proofs of the design were printed in 12 trial colors - 20 sets of 20 stamps per pane.

The stamp was only valid on one day: November 19, 1893, and was only used for local inland mail. Forgeries of the stamp are also on the market.

ENLARGED PHOTOCOPY - GENUINE

ENLARGED PHOTOCOPY - FORGERY

Although the forgery looks very similar at first glance, close inspection reveals clear differences. One noticeable difference is in the sky - on the real stamp, the lines gradually shift from narrow spacing at the top to wider near the horizon; on the forgery there is a clear switch from narrow to wide, with the wide spacing starting at the top of the rightmost man's head (indicated above with red arrow).

Minor differences include larger lettering on the forgery, clear space between the corners of the border boxes and the vignette frame, and the hand of the leftmost man appearing missing.
